Career Technical Education

Career Technical Education (CTE) is defined by the California Department of Education as a program of study that involves a multiyear sequence of courses that integrates core academic knowledge with technical and occupational knowledge to provide students with a pathway to postsecondary education and careers.

CTE Credentials

The Commission on Teacher Credentialing defines the CTE credentials as follows:

The Preliminary Designated Subjects CTE Teaching Credential authorizes the holder to teach in the subject or subjects named on the credential in grades twelve and below and in classes organized primarily for adults, in career technical, trade or vocational courses. The Clear Designated Subjects CTE Teaching Credential authorizes the holder to teach in the subject or subjects named on the credential in grades twelve and below and in classes organized primarily for adults, including services to English learners in Specially Designed Academic Instruction Delivered in English (SDAIE) in career technical, trade or vocational courses.

Applying to ACOE's CTE Program

Alameda County Office of Education is a Commission on Teacher Credentialing-approved program sponsor accredited to offer a clear CTE teacher education credentialing program.

When candidates apply for admittance to ACOE's program they are also simultaneously applying for the Preliminary Designated Subjects Career Technical Education Teaching Credential.

In order to be admitted into ACOE's Clear CTE Teacher Credentialing program candidates must apply by paying a program fee, completing application forms, and providing verification of work experience and high school graduation.

If a candidate qualifies, they will be given instructions on how obtain a fingerprint clearance and be issued a Certificate of Clearance from the Commission. Upon a candidate receiving the Certificate of Clearance, ACOE will ask for a tuition deposit. Once the deposit is paid ACOE will recommend the candidate to the Commission for the Preliminary Designated Subjects CTE Teaching Credential. There is an additional fee to the Commission for processing the credential.

ACOE will admit the candidate into the program when the Commission grants the credential. The candidate can then start teaching CTE classes in the industry sector they are authorized to teach and will be pre-registered for the next available, appropriate ACOE clear CTE teacher credentialing course.

Course Offerings

Candidates who hold a clear multiple-subject, single-subject or educational specialist credential take course CTE 103. All other individuals take CTE 101 and CTE 102.
